TRAGIC DEATH OF FLOYD E. DANIEL

Popular Express Agent Found Dead In His Office Early Monday Morning.

Floyd F. Daniel, agent for the Railway Express Company in this city, was found dead in the offices of the company early Monday morning, the gruesome discovery being made by Mrs. Daniel and her two children, who had gone to the express office to hunt for "daddy" after he failed to come home Sunday night. He was found stretched out on a tarpaulin in a little side room of the express office, a bullet wound in his temple and a pistol lying by his side. The pistol was one belonging to the company, and was kept in the office. Only one shell had been exploded.

Mrs. Daniel stated that her husband came home as usual early Sunday evening, after working most of the day, took the two children, Floyd, Jr., and Dottie, to the Presbyterian church, where the children had a part in a program; afterward meeting the eight thirty train and escorting a lady to his house where she boarded. He then ate his supper and left the house, saying he had to go to the office to do some work. That was the last his family saw of him alive. Not returning to his home by midnight, Mrs. Daniel said that she was not alarmed at his absence as he frequently stayed at work until after midnight. But when she awoke at six o'clock Monday morning and he still had not returned, she became alarmed and called the children to go with her to find out what was the matter with daddy.

Arriving at the office about six thirty, Mrs. Daniel stated that she found all the doors locked and one light burning as usual. She let herself in one of the side doors, of which she had a key, and entering the office, found her husband cold in death as above stated. She then phoned to friends to come to her assistance, the first persons to arrive being Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Rosenbaum. There were no signs of any struggle or disturbance in the office, and Mr. Daniel's desk was in order and his work seemingly all posted up to date and all his reports for Saturday's business carefully made out.

Coroner Falls was summoned, and after making an investigation of the premises and of the body, had the body of the unfortunate man removed to Moss Point to be prepared for burial. Later in the morning Mr. Falls summoned a coroner's jury, and an inquest was held Monday afternoon. The following citizens constituted the jury: Dr. J. F. Colley, W. W. Jones, W. H. Nelson, Jr., H. C. Beardslee, G. H. Conway, R. G. McLeod. District Attorney W. M. Colmer conducted the examination of witnesses. In the mean time Sheriff John D. Lowe, Mayor Watts and Deputy Sheriff J. A. Browne had been to the express office and made an examination of the floor, walls, packages, etc., surrounding where the body was found, in an effort to locate the bullet by which Mr. Daniel came to his death. There was considerable blood on the floor, tarpaulin and some packages near where the dead man had been lying. The bullet went into his right temple, went clear through the head, coming out over the left ear. The bullet took an upward range and was found in a carton of wooden duck decoys, having lodged in the head of one of the decoys, about a foot above the floor.

Mr. Falls was of the opinion that it was not a case of suicide, as there were no powder burns on the dead man's head. Mr. Falls also said Mr. DaDniel appeared to him as having been dead seven or eight hours when he saw the body. This would place the hour of Mr. Daniels death at 12:30 or 1:00 o'clock Monday morning.

The coroner's jury, after hearing all the evidence, examining the body and the pistol, brought in the following verdict: "The deceased came to his death from a pistol wound in the head, at the hand of a party or parties unknown to the jury."

The whole community was inexpressibly shocked when the news of Mr. Daniel's tragic death became known. If death came by his own hand no one could assign any reason for such a rash step. Floyd Daniel was a good citizen, one of the best express agents in the country, well liked by all who knew him, and his family life was said to be ideal. He was rather a quiet man, did not drink, and as far as is known, led an exemplary life. An examination of his books at the express office by a travelling auditor of the Railway Express Company, revealed that his accounts and

CHRONICLE-STAR OFFICES CLOSED FOR HOLIDAYS

The Chronicle-Star offices will be closed all day Friday and Saturday to allow the employees to have two full days of undisturbed holiday and rest. This paper is being printed Wednesday night, and will reach the public during the day Thursday, and while it is not as large a paper as usual, contains the local news of the city and the Christmas greetings of a number of advertisers.

The management takes this opportunity of thanking the patrons of the paper one and all for their co-operation in making the paper what it has been the past twelve months, a good, readable home town paper. Without the proper patronage the paper could not have been kept up to the standard the management has tried to maintain.

The Chronicle-Star takes great pleasure in wishing its readers and advertisers, and the Jackson county public in general, a most delightful Christmas.

Holton Suggests That By Buying Home Products Now and In Future, Housewives May Contribute to All-Year Cheer, Prosperity.

Observance of the age-old customs and traditions of Christmas, so productive of good will among adults and of joy among children, may also, if generally desired, serve to bind still closer the material interests of all the people of Mississippi, according to J. C. Holton, commissioner of agriculture.

"Since time immemorial Christmas has been a season of sacred memories, yet it is and has always been also a festive occasion, made joyous with feasts, fun, remembrances, and Old Santa Claus himself.

"It will be as always this year when

HOLIDAY CHEER FOR ROTARIANS

Clubs of Moss Point and Pascagoula Enjoy Splendid Christmas Dinner and Program.

Good fellowship reigned supreme and the Christmas spirit was greatly in evidence when the Rotary clubs of the two cities of Moss Point and Pascagoula met together Wednesday at noon in the Community House of Moss Point for their Christmas week meeting. The Moss Pointers claim they had another one hundred per cent attendance, and it was stated that only three Pascagoula Rotarians failed to attend the meeting.

President DeLashmet of the Moss Point club presided with dignity, and the tables were beautifully decorated with Christmas trees, candles and other Christmas devices, place cards for the diners being little paper candles with small wreaths of holly attached. And it was some dinner. One of the Moss Pointers said the dinner was served by a committee of Baptist women, directed by the "Widow DeLashmet." This caused considerable amusement when one of the Pascagoula men said that he had not heard of Mr. DeLashmet's death, but if he were dead and did not know it, he had a very lively widow and she knew how to "engineer" a dinner. DeLashmet said he was dead only financially. But the dinner was splendid, turkey, 'n the fixin's, served to a queen's taste, and it was enjoyed to the fullest by all present.

During the serving and eating of the meal delightful entertainment was furnished by Misses Alice Quarles and Miss Deloris Mullins, with Mrs. Belle Rollins at the piano. These two attractive young women sang several solos and duets which were encored

SAVE MONEY AND HELP THE COUNTY BY BUYING CAR TAGS THIS MONTH

Every Jackson county motorist who buys his automobile license tags before January 1 will not only avoid having to pay a delinquency penalty of 25 percent but will assure the county receiving an additional $20 in the pro rata distribution among the counties of money raised through road and bridge taxes and the gasoline tax.

These funds are divided among the counties in proportion to the number of automobiles registered in each. The distribution is based on the reports of tag sales up to January 1.

Cars not registered until after January 1, or tags not bought until then, are not included in this report. The county therefore gets that much less of these funds. The difference amounts to about $20 for each car.

Jackson county motorists who buy their tags before January 1 therefore save the delinquency penalty and help increase the county revenue. There is no good excuse for anybody, who has the money to put off buying tags until after New Year's. It is economical to borrow it, if necessary.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATIONS IN PASCAGOULA CHURCHES

Christmas will have been celebrated in most of the churches of Pascagoula by the time this paper reaches its readers, some celebrations having already been held. There were Christmas trees at both the Baptist and Methodist churches on Wednesday afternoon, and also the eleven o'clock service at the Methodist church Thursday night, ending at midnight, and the choir of the church will visit different homes Christmas morning early to sing Christmas carols

The whole community was inexpressibly shocked when the news of Mr. Daniel's tragic death became known. If death came by his own hand no one could assign any reason for such a rash step. Floyd Daniel was a good citizen, one of the best express agents in the country, well liked by all who knew him, and his family life was said to be ideal. He was rather a quiet man, did not drink, and as far as is known, led an exemplary life. An examination of his books at the express office by a travelling auditor of the Railway Express Company, revealed that his accounts and records were in excellent shape. Mr. A. A. Gardner, route agent of the company, with headquarters in Gulfport, has been here this week, and states that he finds Mr. Daniel's office finances in good shape, nothing wrong in any way. This leads the friends of Mr. Daniel to believe that financial worries were not sufficient to cause him to want to take his own life.

The body was prepared for burial and shipped to Montgomery, Ala, former home of deceased, for interment. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon, there being a short service at Leakes Chapel followed by a Masonic burial by the Masonic Lodge of Montgomery. Particulars of the funeral are lacking. Mrs. Daniel and the children went to Montgomery for the funeral, and it is said will remain there with relatives until after the holidays.

Floyd T. Daniel was 45 years of age. He was born in Madison, Georgia, on January 16, 1887. He had lived in Pascagoula for the past 13 years, as agent for the Railway Express Company, and was said to have been one of the best express agents in the service. He was an untiring worker, always ready to assist or accomodate any one who called upon him, his whole life being devoted to his work and to his family. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Katie Daniel, and two fine children, Floyd and Dottie, aged thirteen and ten years, respectively. He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Daniel, who reside in Montgomery; one brother, Dr. Thomas Daniel of Mobile; and three sisters, Mrs. Cantwell Muckenfus of Charleston, S. C., and Mrs. Amanda Sims and Miss Wesley Daniel of Montgomery.

The hearts of the entire community go out to Mrs. Daniel and the children in sympathy at the tragic and untimely death of their husband and father, and to the other bereaved ones, and the Chronicle-Star adds its sympathies to those of hundreds of citizens of Pascagoula and elsewhere.

FRANK DANIEL.

Following a protracted illness, the past three weeks of which time he was confined to his home, Mr. Frank Daniel succumbed to a heart attack Saturday evening at 7:45. Mr. Daniel was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Daniel. Born in Moss Point, April 16, 1872 he has spent his entire life in the city. The deceased in survived by three sisters, Mrs. J. B. Taylor, Mrs. R. Q. Breeland and Miss Hattie Daniel of Moss Point. Funeral services were conducted from his late residence at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. F. Brock, pastor of the Baptist church officiating. Interment was made in the family lot at the Griffin cemetery.

Among the out-of-town relatives and friends to attend the funeral were, Mr. Edward Daniel, Mrs. John Daniel, Mrs. S. Braud, Mrs. Ed. Morgan of New Orleans, Mr. Royal Daniel, Mrs. Ed. Daniel, Mrs. Ruth Beard, Miss Jessie Mae Daniel of Bogalusa, La., Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Alice Craig, Miss Alpha Martin of Gautier, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Daily, Mrs. W. P. Daily and Miss Eva Daily of Mobile.

The Advertiser joins friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones.
